

The Requirement for Internship out of Jiangsu University

Students who want to do the internship aboard or out of Jiangsu University (JSU) should select a comprehensive hospital or medical center, with over 500 patient beds and with medical teaching competence. The student is also required to submit an acceptance letter from the hospital and a certificate showing the qualification of the hospital.

The duration of the internship in Clinical Medicine is 48 weeks, including 12 weeks for Internal Medicine, 12 weeks for Surgery, 6 weeks for Gynecology & Obstetrics, and 6 weeks for Pediatrics, 2 weeks for Ophthalmology, 2 weeks for Otorhinolaryngology, 2 weeks for Dermatology, 2 weeks for Infectious Diseases, 2 weeks for Emergency and 2 weeks for Radiology.

When you come back to school (The longest duration is 8 years) , you should submit the original application form with internship record of JSU, introduction to the hospital and internship completion certificate, the successful applicants can apply to participate in the Graduation Exam in the first week of May or December if the internship is approved by Medical College of JSU. The examination involves clinical theory and practice of Internal Medicine, Surgery, Gynecology and Pediatrics. Those who pass the exam are qualified to graduate and receive degree.

School of Medicine
Jiangsu University